The influence of Teenagers on Family Decision-Making

Nowadays a lot of family trust their teenage children help them on decision making, listen their opinion about this or that situation. In my humble opinion that's great way!

Much number of teenagers can't trust their parents. It had started when he was a child and maybe had not near (relationship) relationship with in family. In my point of view child can have conversation with parents, if the situation rely on full family: Every teenagers want to be older than they were and it's normal! Making decision with family - good school for them, adulthood don't ask about <sup>your</sup> ~~you~~ experience, improving your decision-making skills at home with near the nearest person in this world play big role in our life. Parents who let teenagers ~~opport~~ opportunity to say their opinion, give them chance for solution some problems, choosing some things but it doesn't mean that child need to find solution alone. Around that kind of people <sup>will</sup> grow happy and independent person. But some part of (society) society can disagree with me. for them teenagers can't mak decisions, the reason of that their over emotions.

In ~~to the~~ our planet you can meet people who have different opin opinion about allowing teenagers making desion on family. It's good skills which can be useful ~~in~~ <sup>on</sup> at adulthood. Choosing was and will be everytime and all of us must know how to solute it.
